Tutoring Experience

For over a decade, I've specialised in tutoring IB Geography, focusing on HL and SL students. My experience spans topics from sustainable development to climate change, tailoring lessons to meet individual needs. Having worked with students across North America, Asia, and Europe, I bring a global perspective to the subject.

I've also taught A-Level and IGCSE Geography, helping students navigate exams and coursework with clarity. My ability to simplify complex topics and connect theory with real-world examples has consistently enabled students to boost their grades and confidence.
